THE PROFIT SCRIPT

Ad Teardown: Native Pet

nativepet.com
pet (dog supplements)
2026-11-05

LIVE ADS SNAPSHOT

Ad-by-ad review not included in this one-page version.

LANDING PAGE

Url	https://nativepet.com
Offer	Retail: Chewy lists 50% off first Autoship (up to $20); Tractor Supply Calm Chews 60ct $24.99
Proof	Retail ratings: Calm Chews 4.7/5 (249, Tractor Supply); Omega oil ~4.8/5 (496, Walmart)

- Sold across Chewy, Tractor Supply, Walmart: DTC creative has to give a reason to buy direct
- Press angle: 'vet-formulated', 'taste-tested by real dogs' (Hepper, Mic)

WHAT CUSTOMERS SAY

> "I Can't Believe How Much My Notoriously-Picky Pup Loves This Vet-Formulated Supplement"
> https://www.thequalityedit.com/articles/native-pet-dog-supplements-review · Press headline (verbatim)

> "...seem to have helped the itching but it's super expensive"
> https://www.chewy.com/native-pet-skin-coat-chews-omega-3/dp/1083294 · Chewy 2-star review (snippet via search)

> "some reviews suggest that the chews size could be inconsistent"
> https://iheartdogs.com/?p=4100770 · iHeartDogs review (verbatim)

PAINS · DESIRES · OBJECTIONS

- Dog refuses pills / is a picky eater
- Itchy skin and coat issues
- A supplement the dog actually takes like a treat
- Visible change without vet-visit hassle
- Price ('super expensive')
- Chew size inconsistent / too big for small dogs

GAPS WORTH TESTING

1. Price objection needs a frame
'super expensive' appears even in reviews that say it worked. Cost-per-day or vs-vet-visit framing is a cheap test.

2. Picky-dog angle is proven in press, worth owning in ads
Press headline leads with a picky pup loving it; pill refusal is a universal owner pain.

3. Small-dog objection
Reviews mention inconsistent chew size; a small-breed-specific creative can pre-empt it (only with a true answer, e.g. how to split).

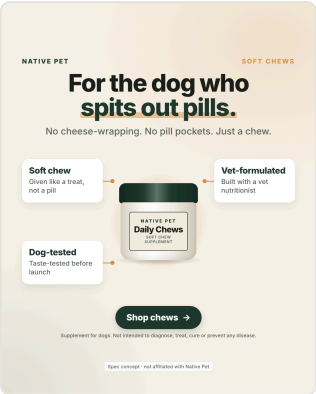

4. Reason to buy direct
Same SKUs sit on Chewy/Tractor Supply/Walmart; direct-site creative needs its own offer or bundle story.

3 CONCEPTS

CALLOUTS STATIC
Spits out pills
"For the dog who spits out pills."
Picky-eater / pill refusal — press 'notoriously-picky pup'

OFFER STATIC (NEEDS REAL PRICE PER CHEW)
Cost per day
"Less per day than the cheese you wrap pills in."
Price reframe — 'super expensive' objection

UGC 15S OWNER DEMO
Small dog, real size
"Yes, my 9-lb dog takes it. Here's how."
Objection handling — chew size inconsistent

Next step
Happy to send the picky-dog static plus 2 more concepts.

Carl Thielemann · The Profit Script · theprofitscript.com

Spec concept · not affiliated with Native Pet. Observations based on publicly visible ads and pages as of 2026-11-05.

No knowledge of spend or performance is implied.